

Mr. Jason M. Colosky
Chief, Deepwater International Programs Office

Mr. Colosky was assigned to the United States Coast Guard's Deepwater Program Executive Office (PEO) in August 2001 as the first Chief of International Programs. The Deepwater PEO is an innovative acquisition program developing, acquiring, and sustaining an affordable integrated system of surface, air, C2, and logistics assets that serve America's maritime safety and security needs. Mr. Colosky is the recognized architect of the Deepwater International Business Strategy, which supports the largest and most successful international program in the history of the US Coast Guard. As such, he is responsible for all Deepwater PEO security assistance programs to include: review of all Deepwater related technical assistance agreements/export licenses, Foreign Military Sales, and international agreements. He is responsible for the negotiation and signature of multiple bi-lateral International Agreements that serve as the underpinnings for the internationalization of the Eagle Eye HV-911 tactical UAV program.

He manages a multi-agency international programs office comprised of regional desk officers, a disclosure and financial management section, representatives from the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security, and support contractors.

Prior to his assignment as the Chief of International Programs, Mr. Colosky worked in US defense industry supporting critical programs within the USCG and OSD (C3I). He has worked within the National Security and Defense fields for the past thirteen years. He holds a Bachelors Degree in International Relations and Master's Degree in Political Science with a concentration in International Politics and Comparative Governments from George Mason University. Mr. Colosky is also a graduate of the School of National Security Executive Education at the National Defense University, where he received a Master's Degree in National Security Studies. Additionally, he is a graduate of several senior-level defense acquisition, program management, and security assistance management courses. Mr. Colosky is a former US Marine, who served extensively throughout Southwest Asia and Southeast Africa.
